The Society of Ethiopians Established in the Diaspora, SEED, condemns the atrocities committed against the people of Ethiopia, and vehemently urge the Government of Ethiopia to STOP the indiscriminate killings of Ethiopians, including women and young children!!!!

High ranking official from several countries, the US Ambassador in in the UN, Samantha Power, the African Union and the European Union have expressed concern on the gross human rights violation in Ethiopia.

International Human Rights organization such us Amnesty International and Human Rights Watch have reported the Ethiopian Government's brutal killings in the country for quite some time. Leading world news media outlets have echoed the same. These arbitrary arrest and killings in the country are great concerns to all Ethiopians.

We urge the Ethiopian government to respect the constitutionally enshrined rights of all the citizens, including those with the opposition views to demonstrate peacefully, express their opinion and the people who have been put in jail be released.

SEED believes the rule of law should prevail under a united and democratic Ethiopia in which the rights of all Ethiopian citizens are protected. SEED supports and stands in solidarity with the Ethiopian people.
