

Asrat Woldelassie

Asrat Woldelassie is currently working for an international development organization in Washington, D.C.

She has dedicated her professional life to improve the lives of the less fortunate. She has worked in the fields of educational administration and international development in many capacities. During her 15 years of service at the U.S. Fund for UNICEF, Asrat has supported the Washington Council Advisory Board, including its major fundraising activities for UNICEF. In addition, she supervised many volunteers and interns in the Washington D.C. area with the aim to help them to become aware of issues affecting the well-being of children around the world.

She coordinated events between Congress and the U.S. Fund for UNICEF. In this capacity, she was arranging special events and briefings with the House and Senate. Asrat has served on the boards of several humanitarian and developmental non-profit organizations. Asrat is a graduate of Howard University, with a degree in sociology.